Dear Neighbors,

In this time of great divisiveness and intolerance, the people of Sudbury United Methodist Church would like to express their solidarity with our neighbors. As a reconciling ministry and strong supporter of interfaith dialogue, SUMC has long recognized that God's love recognizes no human boundaries.

Hate-speech and violence have no place in our society and we reject the intolerance that provokes these hurtful acts. Our hearts go out to you, realizing that everyday living and raising families in this anxious climate is difficult and at times frightening. Please know that you are in our prayers and that we are committed to your support.

Our shared humanity calls for inclusion and collaboration, and as a community dedicated to peace and trust we will come together with one voice, and say to the world of violence and discrimination "there is a better way". And so, we stand by you, shoulder to shoulder in hopes of creating a better world.

In Friendship and Solidarity,

Sudbury United Methodist Church
